PURPOSE OF SCHOLARSHIP

The Johnny Trombly Scholarship supports and encourages young musicians interested in playing piano or other instruments for traditional New England dance music, an American dance music form that includes contra-dance and square dance music.

BACKGROUND

The Monadnock Region is the heart of traditional New England dance music, with a heritage dating back centuries. Bob McQuillen, widely recognized as a master of traditional New England dance music, established this scholarship to honor his mentor, Johnny Trombly, who was the area's premier piano player in the 1940's and early 1950's. Through this scholarship, Bob McQuillen hopes to preserve and advance traditional New England dance music, one of the Monadnock region's unique contributions to the nation's cultural heritage.

GEOGRAPHICAL AND AGE LIMITS

Residents of Cheshire, Sullivan or Hillsborough Counties (NH), the Upper Connecticut River Valley, and Windham County (VT) are welcome to apply. Those from other areas may apply: preference may be given to Monadnock area residents. Applicants must be 18 years of age or younger on December 31st of the current application year.

OTHER LIMITATIONS

The scholarship may be used only for expenses related to developing musical skill in traditional New England dance music. This may include lessons, dance or music camp, or whatever legitimate need the applicant expresses, as long as the expense is directly related to traditional New England dance music. Funds are not currently available for the purchase of instruments and funds must be used within 12 months of the award.

STATEMENT OF UNDERSTANDING

When applying for this scholarship, the recipient will sign a statement of understanding, agreeing to the following:

1. Upon completion of the sponsored activity, the beneficiary may be asked to perform at a Monadnock Folklore Society event;
2. The recipient may be required to send the Monadnock Folklore Society a report describing how the recipient benefited from the funds;
3. The scholarship recipient is required to supply to the Monadnock Folklore Society a photograph suitable for use in press releases.

ABOUT THE TROMBLY MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Johnny Trombly was a self-taught piano player from Marlborough, NH who combined influences from the French Canadian community in which he was raised with a solid and driving piano playing style that was highly sought after. He lived in Marlborough all his life; after working in a factory during the day, he would return to the house that he shared with his sister and brother-in-law. Except for band gigs, Johnny rarely ventured far. Since he never learned to drive, he depended on fellow band members for rides to and from dances. For many years, Trombly played piano for Ralph Page, one of the best-known dance callers in the region, and a national authority on contra dancing. From this “funny little man” came the piano playing style that musicians still praise and emulate today. One of his many fans is nationally renowned piano player Bob “Mac” McQuillen.

McQuillen first met Trombly at Ralph Page’s dances, which Bob attended regularly. At the time, McQuillen was playing accordion and in 1947 Page invited McQuillen to join the Ralph Page Orchestra with his “squeezebox.” About 20 years after first joining Page’s orchestra with his accordion, McQuillen played his first dance as a piano player, and he has been doing it ever since. He credits much of his style to Trombly’s influence. Over the years he incorporated some of Trombly’s trademark embellishments into his own playing and has passed them on to his own apprentices. McQuillen also still plays the accordion and has written hundreds of dance tunes.

At the heart of traditional square and contra dance scene for the last several decades, McQuillen has performed at the Smithsonian’s National Folklife Festival, the Kennedy Center, and at festivals throughout the United States. He has 11 books in print and can be heard on at least a dozen recordings. In 2002, the National Endowment for the Arts named him a National Heritage Fellow.

Most importantly, McQuillen is a strong supporter of and advocate for young people, including young dancers and musicians. He was a much beloved classroom teacher in the Peterborough area for many years and continues to teach as he passes on his love of music to others. In 2001, he approached the Monadnock Folklore Society about establishing and administering a scholarship fund to further his desire to help preserve and advance traditional New England Dance music, especially among young people. He chose to name the fund after the man he considers his mentor. While the work to establish a full endowment for the Trombly Scholarship continues, the awarding of scholarships began in 2002.

ABOUT THE MONADNOCK FOLKLORE SOCIETY
